Talcott Announces Transfer Of Language Institute To Monterey Peninsula

Congressman Burt L. Talcott issued the following statement in announcing that Monterey has been selected as the new National Headquarters for the Defense Language Institute. Since its founding, the Headquarters have been in our Nation's Capitol.

Talcott's statement follows:

"The announcement of the transfer of the Headquarters of DLI to Monterey from Washington is the fruition of a long personal campaign by me and good news for our area.

"DLI is one of the elite agencies of the DOD and I am confident that its importanct will increase rapidly.

"I am convinced that language will become a more important and effective weapon for peace than missles.

"DLI is the language teaching facility for the services and their system is considered one of the most effective known to linguists. It is the largest language training effort in the Free World.

"DLI will enhance the cultural activity of our area - most languages of the world will be heard in our community.

"The professional complement will serve to fortify our growing academic community.

"The move fits with the plan to decentralize our Federal government from Washington and will be another step in adding stature to DLI.

"There is space to grow at the Presidio. The plan to develop modern academic, administrative, and living facilities for the staff and students can be accelerated. The plans to abandon and demolish the unsightly, old wooden buildings on the lower frontage portions will continue until the 59 acres can be transferred to the State of California for park and open space purposes.

"I know Mayor Madden and the City officials, Loren Smith and all Peninsula citizens will welcome this new permanent Defense Department facility.

"In addition to the cultural and environmental additions, the economic impact of additional payroll should be welcome to the Peninsula business community.

"This, of course, is one of the most satisfying accomplishments of my Congressional career," Congressman Talcott concluded.

Red Cross Needs More Blood Donors

There will be an American Red Cross Blood drawing in Carmel Valley Community Center, Thursday, October 5 from 3 to 6:30 p.m. The San Jose Blood Center has had a special urgent need of more blood than usual because of the two open heart surgery cases and 1 hemophiliac case involving the use of more blood. All donors will be presented with "Two-for" tickets entitling them to two tickets to the Monterey Peninsula College dramatic production, "Indians."

For further information please telephone 659-2833 or 624-6921.

VIA To Work In Schools

Volunteers in Action, a veteran organization of community action events in Monterey, plans to channel much of its resources into the school system this year.

The goal will be to screen, to train, and to assign volunteers to priority areas of the school district so that these volunteers can work with youngsters in the school as well as on a tutorial basis at home. Co-ordination of this program will be handled by Ed Swaine and Harriet Roundtree, both VIA directors, whose responsibilities will be lending VIA resources, such as VIA personnel, community contacts and community action expertise, to the program. On the receiveing end of this effort, Beatriz Rosales, a Seaside community organizer and Bill Leone, a teacher at King Junior High School, will screen, train and assign volunteers to respective students.

Students having difficulties with school will be given priority.

For example, if it is discovered that a student in junior high school is reading below the fourth grade reading level, a volunteer would be assigned to that student to work with him at school, in the classroom and at home on a tutorial basis.

This in itself has far reaching effects since there is a high positive correlation between low reading ability, failure in school and delinquency. The co-ordinators of the program would insure the students' acquistion of reading skills by working with the teacher, the parents and the volunteer. Such a program would give the teacher additional leverage in his classes. That is the volunteer, working on a one to one basis with the student would help to raise his student to the level of regular classroom participation.

This program should be in effect by October of this school year. Plans are to start in a small area, such as the reading department of King Junior High School; then, after a successful pattern has been firmly established, to branch out to other departments of the same school and finally to other schools in the district.

Volunteers will be drawn from VIA volunteer staff, Monterey Peninsula College, Naval Postgraduate School, Defense Language Institute and Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies student bodies, USO resources, churches, clubs and from the community at large.

Those who wish to contribute time and energy to this effort are urged to call VIA office 373-6177 or 373-6664 for further information.

Local Lions Aid Blind

Lions Clubs in the Monterey Peninsula area will be holding their annual White Canes drive October 6 and 7. Members of the several clubs in this area will station themselves near heavily trafficed locations soliciting donations to further their sight conservations efforts, which is the primary charity of Lionism.

Seaside White Cane Days chairman Lou Haddad stated that the Peninsula community has been very generous in the past and expects a record year for community support this year.

Haddad said that it was a member of a Lions Club who first proposed that blind persons carry a white cane tipped with red, as evidence of their inability to see. "This is now universally acknowledged as a signal that the bearer is blind," Haddad said. "Statutes of many states have added legal authority to this general acceptance."

Lions Clubs have found many ways of service to express their concern for those imparied with sight. "Sometimes it is with deeds and sometimes it is with dollars," Haddad added. "But Lions always are serving the unsighted."

The local Lions Clubs have joined in cooperation to establish a blind recreation center in Pacific Grove, and it is expected that their efforts will bear fruition within sixty days.

6th Annual Art Contest Announced

Charles Y. Lee, chairman of the Seaside Art Commission, announced recently that the 6th Annual Seaside Art Competitive Exhibition will be on from November 1 through November 30, in the Seaside City Hall Gallery. This contest is open only to residents of Seaside, Del Rey Oaks, Sand City, Marina and Ft. Ord.

Each participant is allowed up to two entries. There is a $1 fee per picture. Three categories has been established: watercolor, oil painging or acrylic painting, and GRAPHICS (which may include black and white drawings, lithographs, serigraphs, engravings, etchings, batiks, collages, etc.). Cash prizes will be awarded to the first three place winners, plus some honorable mention award ribbons.

Judges this year will be Keith Lindberg, Eugene Towne, and Howard Bradford.

Fee, entry forms and entries will be accepted at City Hall on Friday, October 27, and Saturday, October 28 between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Forms and rules may be picked up from City Hall, Marina Community Center, Ft. Ord Craft & Hobby Shop, Seaside Chamber of Commerce, Monte Mart, and other locations that will be announced at a later date when the forms are ready for distribution.

Any question should be directed to Chairman Lee at 394-2965, Miss Helen Kostogryz at 394-8436 or Mrs. Anne Winner at 394-1732.

No Classes October 6

Classes will not be held Friday, October 6 in the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District, Superintendent Allan J. Petersdorf has announced.

Although it will be a holiday for students, the superintendent said all teachers, administrators and non-teaching employees will be on duty, with the exception of cafeteria workers and bus drivers.

Friday has been set aside by the board of education to allow staffs at each of the district's schools to meet and work on new evaluation procedures mandated by state legislators. A new law that became effective on September 1 required school districts all over California to overhaul procedures for evaluating teachers and certificated administrators. Along with several other factors, teachers and administrators will be evaluated on the amount of progress made by students in every classroom.

Last year, a committee of teachers and administrators developed district guidelines for evaluation, based on the new law. Individual school staffs will devote Friday to seeking ways to implement the guidelines smoothly.

Chamber of Commerce Moves to Stop Project

The Director of the Marina Chamber of Commerce have stepped up their campaign to halt a low-rent housing project in that city.

The directors have sent telegrams of protest to San Francisco, Washington and Salinas. These will be followed up by petitions.

The action is aimed at the 100-unit Cypress Gardens Apartments, formorly known as Villa Garcia West, planned for a five-acre site near Highway 1 and Reservation Road.

This latest action comes after five-months of trying to halt the project.

The directors want the project stopped because they say the federally-subsidized project is not needed in Marina, that it will not fulfill the need for military housing as claimed and that it will put a very large burden on local schools.

The telegrams were sent to Housing and Urban Development Offices in San Francisco and Washington, to Congressman Burt Talcott, to the Monterey County Board of Supervisors and to sponsors of the project--Education Research of Berkeley and Jack Baskin, Inc. of Vallejo.

The telegrams asked that the project be delayed until an environmental impact report acceptable to the community be made. HUD has not made a commitment on financing the project as yet, although a letter of feasibility has been issued. The directors hope their telegrams, followed by petitions now being circulated by the Marina Citizens Association, will hold up the commitment.

Over 2,000 signatures on the petitions are expected by the end of the week, according to chamber director Robert Mast.

Mast added that if HUD makes the commitment in spite of the protests, the chamber is prepared to go to court and ask for an injunction to halt the project.

Promoted

Patricia M. Schmeltz has been promoted to operations officer at the Seaside Bank of America, it was announced recently by Vice President and Manager Bob Dobson.

A native of Salinas, Mrs. Schmeltz joined the bank in Seaside in 1955. She was promoted to head of the note department in 1965, advancing to assistant operations officer three years later.

In 1971 she was named head of the bank's Fort Ord Office.

Mrs. Schmeltz has been active in Little League baseball and the Tops Club in Seaside.

Poor Old Joe Is Gone

By Clint C. Porter

There were two well-known Produce Markets in the Seaside-Monterey Area. Now there is only one. Last Sunday morning at approximately 9 a.m., the other one--Poor Old Joe's--went up in smoke and flames.

Chuck, the owner smelled smoke slightly and went to investigate. The smoke was coming from the Rest Room Area. When he opened the door he observed a flame three or four feet in height.

At first he tried to douse it with water from one of the faucets, but immediately saw that he was losing that battle. He and his assistant attempted to connect a water hose from the outside, and before that could be accomplished the flame had found a vent and soared upwards.

Upstairs was his plush living quarters. His wife and family were upstairs preparing to come down for the beginning of another busy day. He alerted them and they ran out. The Fire Department arrived, but it was too late to save anything.

Poor Old Joe's Market will be missed by the populace, as it was centrally located and convenient parking was available at all t[illegible]s.

Chuch info[illegible] this writer that he and his [illegible]mily will be living with rela[illegible]s and friends until other plans [illegible]re made. His personal loss could reach $10,000.00 including furniture and clothing.

Genuine kindness is not what we do. It is what we are. And we choose what we are.

When you were going to grammar school one of the things they did when the teacher was teaching you to spell was to show you a picture of the word. If it was C-A-T she showed you a picture of a cat. For D-O-G it was a dog, etc. By the time you finished with the one-word-one picture type of learning you were ready for the larger words. But you started with the picture.

Now that you are adults and no longer use that method (and probably haven't used it for some years) there is still another way to revert to the picturetype of learning through the process of Psycho-Pictography. That method is used when you paint a mental picture in your mind as a guide to improve your depths of realization.

Psycho-Pictography is another one of those books I can pick up and read over and over again and gain new insight each time. The one I have was written by Vernon Howard.

The Power of Mental Pictures can be used to improve anything you may need to improve. Suppose that you are about to enter a roomful of strangers. As you step into that room, a picture flashes into your mind of how you acted on a previous entering. That past viewpoint now determines your present behavior. If you were nervous and uncertain on the previous occasion, that negative image instructs, 'You were nervous before, so you must be nervous again;' and that is

ARMY RECRUITER

Hello everyone.

Would you believe that jobs for public health workers will expand rapidly during the 1970's? According to the recent government studies they will. State and local health agencies are broadening their environmental health activities and radiological health, occupational health, food protection, solid waste management, and water and air pollution are expected to require the services of more trained personnel.

TODAY'S ARMY offers one of the best training grounds in the world to receive the background and knowledge for a career in public health. TODAY'S ARMY, with bases around the world, needs soldiers who are skilled in sanitation, entomology, industrial hygiene and radiological hygiene and safety. Air Pollution control is one field where many more skilled practitioners will be needed in coming years. This prevalent environment health hazard has seen the enactment of extensive legislation regulating the quantity of sulfates or other chemical compounds emitted into the air. Enforcing all the new regulation will increase the demand for professional sanitarians. The increasing population, too, will also intensify the need for trained public health workers.

Preventive medicine specialists must understand environmental health survey procedures related to housing, food sanitation, water supply and waste disposal. He must know the disease transmission habits of animals and insects and must be able to identify common intestinal parasites. He must also know how to mix and apply insecticides, rodenticides and repellants.

Among his many Army duties, the specialist conducts surveys of various environmental factors affecting the health of personnel in military areas. He assists in applications of measures for prevention and control of both endemic and epidemic diseases, including training in health measures, immunization, pest control, and inspection and supervision of water supply and waste disposal systems. The preventive medicine specialist microscopically identifies insects and determines the presence of disease micro-organisms.

TODAY'S ARMY-TRAINED preventive medicine specialist has an ideal background for transferring into civilian area as a well-paid public health worker.

Chief of Army Nurses Visits Fort Ord

"Women finally getting promoted to the rank of general had absolutely nothing to do with women's lib," said Brigadier General Lillian Dunlap, chief of the Army Nurse Corps, in an interview at Silas B. Hayes Army Hospital.

BrigGen. Dunlap went on to say, "Up until 1967 the Army Nurse Corps and Women's Army Corps were restricted by law as to how many colonels they could have and to absolutely no generals. Then the Secretary of the Army and the Chief of Staff decided in 1970 that there should be women generals."

The General has seen a lot of changes in medicine during her 30 years of nursing. She listed "rapid ambulation" as one major change. She said "We formerly kept patients who had an appendectomy in bed for seven days. Now, we don't exactly have him walk back from the operating room, but we do see that he has exercise the first day."

In Vietnam BrigGen. Dunlap was impressed with the "rapid evacuation of the wounded." She said that this had been a great improvement since World War II, "Within hours a wounded man may now be returned to a hospital in the states."

BrigGen. Dunlap does not believe in a militant approach to change. She said "...becoming involved and totally so, working within the establishment is the only way to change. And I think young people today are beginning to realize this."

"A person in nursing establishes a certain commitment even before they begin their training. The Army attracts nurses who enjoy traveling, meeting people, and working with some of the worlds most modern professional equipment."

Officers Are Elected

An election of officers and a golf tournament highlighted the recent annual meeting of the Fort Ord Chapter of the Association of the United States Army.

The annual meeting at the Officers' Open Mess, which also featured a briefing by Major General H.G. Moore, Ft. Ord's commanding general, was followed by a no-host luncheon. Nearly 100 attended the meeting and 80 stayed for the lunch. The shotgun start, best-ball golf tourney had 14 foursomes entered.

Elected as president was former vice president Warren Gipe of Monterey. L.E. Johnson of Salinas is the immediate past president and remains on the board of directors. Other officers elected were Loren H. Soenke of Salinas, vice-president; Richard L. Schlegel of Monterey, treasurer; and Major J.D. Coleman, Ft. Ord's tary.

Mr. Gipe, in assuming the presidency, said his three major goals for the coming year were to get the junior ROTC program off the ground, to enlarge the civilian membership OF AUSA, and to continue the chapter's strong support of the Modern Volunteer Army concept.

In other chapter business, BF.D Wahl, Carmel, was selected as the official delegate to the national annual meeting in Washington, D.C., this month.

The golf match ended in a three way tie with three foursomes carding best ball 63's. The winner foursomes were: General Ben Harrell, General Paul Freeman, Mr. Warren Gipe and Colonel W. K. Dieleman; Colonel T.J. Street, Major Robert Anderson, Lieutenant James Adameck and Sergeant Major Jesse C. Stroud; Lieutenant Colonel Robert A. Patterson, Captain Jerry Peffers, Mr. L.H. Soenke and Mr. George Duffin.

It wasn't the smoke billowing out of the back room or the smell of burning incense that sent Seaside Fire Department's ol' engine #632 into action yesterday, but rather it was a deep feeling of community spirit and involvement. Seen here at the corner of Fremond and Ord Grove in Seaside, site of KZEN studios, the fire department lends another helping hand.

"What looked like a three alarm fire was actually just an innocent wall washing," announced station manager Richard George. "The Fire Department volunteered their services and washed off the wall." "You se," Richard continued, "an art class from Seaside High, under the supervision of Mr. Zane Spieser, is going to paint a gigantic mural there and the wall had to be cleaned." Adn with the help of Capt. Lee Darrel, Engineer Bob Eichiuger and Firefighter Bob Rader, the wall is ready to go.

Situated in what used to be the old Fireside Liquor Store, KZEN, 107.1 FM will be broadcasting from Seaside in about two weeks. And if all goes well, KZEN's soul, blues, gospel and jazz will fill the air from Solidad to Santa Cruz, from Salinas to Carmel and of course Seaside.

In an interview with Station Manager Richard George, we inquired about the stations goals in relationship to the community.

"I'm really happy about the location of the station because the people can get to it pretty easily. So many stations are hidden from their listeners and I'm glad we're not. One of the most important things we want to stress is community involvement. We plan to use the station not only to entertain, but to provide a vocal point for community activities. The station will be sponsoring various events of local interest ranging from cultural and artistic endevors to "on the air" performances of local street mjsicians. This is a community radio station and I sincerely hope all the people support it.....because it's for the people."

exactly what will happen.

But you have the power within you to smash that harmful and habitual mental image. Suppose you change it to one of calm confidence? That new mental picture would then work itself out into new and poised behavior.

THE WAY YOU THINK DETERMINES THE WAY YOU ACT. The way you act determines what happens to you. Think well, and you act well. Act well, and all is well. But you have to paint a Mental Picture to determine how you are going to act.

Let's try a more definite one: Imagine yourself speeding down the highway toward the dry desert. As you travel along, the weather gets uncomfortably warm, and the scenery becomes dull. You decide that you don't like it, you are tired of traveling toward unpleasant country. So you make up your mind to change your direction, to reverse yourself and head for the mountains at your back.

But, of course, you cannot come to a sudden stop. Even though you make the decision, your momentum carries you forward for a while. But you slow down, come to a stop, turn around and start off in the opposite direction. Slowly but surely you gather speed as you head toward the mountains.

Now you begin to feel different, both physically and emotionally. The change in direction performs the miracle of change in feeling. You actually experience the cooler air, you respond with pleasure to the lovelier scenery. Now that you personally feel the difference in the two courses, nothing can ever persuade you to abandon your new direction. By your own observation and feeling, you know that there is a difference. You also know that as you continue in this right direction, you will feel increasingly good. Everything will be much better, including your health.

Now you have painted a Mental Picture. You pictured yourself driving to the desert, whether you wanted to or not, and you pictured the feeling of heat and discomfort. After you turned around and headed for the cooler place, you pictured the feeling of coolness and the happiness involved in choosing the right decision. Fine!

This type of Pictography can also be used by your True Self to gain beauty and contentment. Failure is absolutely impossible to the man or woman who sincerely and persistently searches for his abundantly wealthy True Self. Think about this for a moment before you go on. The patiently persistent person eventually makes a delightful discovery. He finds that everything that happens to him can be used for self-advancement. Because every event happy or sad, supplies an opportunity for putting the True Self to the test, letting it prove itself. It is always our reaction to an event that counts, not the event itself.

'Each circumstance and event, tragic or happy, is attracted to us by what we have been and are, and in itself offers to us, by a right reaction to it, the opportunity of spiritual development.' (The Imprisoned Splendour).

I ask you to go purchase the book PSYCHO-PICTOGRAPHY and read it over and over again, then try to live the same life you are living now. Regardless of how good you now think you are, or how satisfied in life you know you are, you will surely find something in this book to show you that life can be better.

Everytime I just begin, it is time to end. My boss, Andy, used to have the same trouble. Pretty soon I am going to give this bit of frustration back to him. Incidently, he's doing just fine. I caught him out of bounds again the other day. He was sitting outside at McDONALD'S, enjoying the sunshine and holding the attention of two of my favorite people, Irene and her lovely mother. There's nothing wrong with him, you can bet on that.

Tax Revenue

State Controller Hugh Flournoy has announced the distribution of $6,930,509 to counties and cities as the September apportionment of cigarette tax.

Monterey County received $10,892.68, and Seaside got $9,446.80. The 58 counties' share was $1,327,691 and the cities' share totaled $5,602,818.

This distribution represents 30 percent of the revenue deposited in the Cigarette Tax Fund during the month of August 1972, less the State's administrative costs of $23,126.

Your Supervisor Reports

Loren Smith

One of our problems which is increasing by leaps and bounds is the matter of disposal of sewage and solid waste.

Many scientists and highly technical organizations are spending a great many hours and millions of dollars in study and research to find solutions to these very crucial matters. In our own County, the problem of disposal of solid waste matter has not become critical as we are still able to find suitable open space for "cut and fill" operations which simply means daily burying of all solid waste materials such as bottles, tin cans, Metals, Newspapers, etc. In this area of waste we have still a few years of grace....in the other area of disposal of raw sewage and partially treated effluent from sewage treatment plants, time has run out. We are faced in this beautiful County with some serious decisions to be made in solving this constantly increasing vexation.

Approximately three years ago when I was serving as Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, I called together in a series of meetings, public officials from all of the Cities surrounding the Monterey Bay along with State and Federal officials interested in our Monterey Bay area waste water management problems. The thrust of these meetings was directed toward possible tertiary treatment as one of the long range possibilities. During the intervening time not much progress has been made in this field, however, the first seeds of tertiary treatment thinking were implanted and it now appears that these seeds of thought are taking root and we are seeing more and more movements towards recycling and re-use of effluent in the form of treated water.

Within the last two weeks, Monterey County was extremely startled and shocked to have our SANITARY ENVIRONMENTALIST, MR. WALTER WONG, advise us that the Corp. of Army Engineers had suggested as one solution to the San Francisco Bay Delta sewage problem the sending of partially treated effluent into Monterey County to be ponded in a 26-mile long strip, 11 miles wide in the general neighborhood of the outskirts of Salinas, Chular and Gonzales. In view of the fact that Monterey County has been known world wide as one of the cleanest and most beautiful areas in the state of California I find it deplorable that anyone would even suggest such a gross and degrading use of our attractive County as a dumping ground for our Northern neighbors.

Let us all determine to be constantly vigilant to resist all such infringements that might be detrimental to our present and future generations of Monterey County residents.

Your Seaside Street Department

by N. Duffy

Sewer maintenance is an aspect of the Street Department which provides the residents of Seaside with a clear and practically trouble free sewer system. Under the direction of the Seaside County Sanitation District Board, which also serves Del Rey Oaks and Sand City, a two man crew is responsible for all cleaning and repair of pipe in the Tri-City area. These men are Ralph Artellan and Eddie Robinson.

Seaside's Supervisor of Streets, C.W. (Bill) Jones, pioneered preventive sewer maintenance on the Monterey Peninsula over fourteen years ago. Added to this is Artellan's and Robinson's combined twenty years experience, providing the residents of Seaside, Del Rey Oaks and Sand City with a low maintenance system.

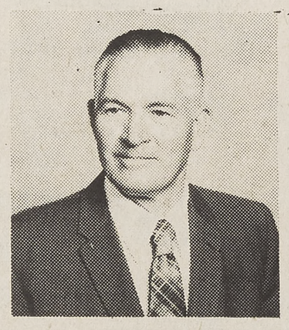
The basic principle of this preventive maintenance program is the annual rodding and flushing of the entire sewer system. With other 75 miles of line to be cleaned, this is a daily project. With the recent acquistion of a jet flusher they will be able to clean the lines faster and more effectively than before. The crew performs other duties, they repair resident's laterals when damaged by utility construction and raise manhole covers to grade following street construction.

The purpose for flushing sewer lines is the prevention of stoppages in the pipes. These blockages are caused by organic household debris and tree roots. Cooking grease and coffee grounds poured down sinks collect in the pipes, decreasing their capacity and diameter. If you are in the habit of disposing of garbage down the sink, we urge you not to do so. The inconvenience of a sewer stoppage is greater than having to place waste in the garbage can.

The Seaside Street Department provides a twenty-four hour emergency sewer main stand-by service to the residents of Del Rey Oaks, Sand City and Seaside. Home owners experiencing sewer stoppage problems may call City Hall during the day. After working hours you should contact the Seaside Police Department who handles the calls. A crew on call will be dispatched to answer the complaint. They rod the city line within the area of the stoppage to determine the cause. Our crew can ascertain if the blockage has occured in the main sewer line or in the residents own lateral. A lateral connects the city line to the resident's home and the maintenance of it is solely the property owner's responsibility. This fact is an important one for the city cannot clear the owners lateral. It is with that point in mind we urge you to be careful where you dispose of your grease and coffee grounds. 150 sewer stoppages were reported last year, 96 were in laterals. On every call the main lines are rodded and flushed to be certain they are clear.

This is the last of our short series on your Seaside Street Department. We hope our effort has helped your understanding of our jobs and what your City Government is doing for your. We have tried to include information which may help you understand the operation of our city a little better. This writer has tried to stress civic pride because he believes in this city. Nearly all of the crew of the Street Department has seen this city grow. Many have grown up with it. Our work and our lives are entwined with Seaside. We ask all residents of Seaside to believe in and to love Seaside. We ask you to join with us in making SEASIDE A BETTER PLACE IN WHICH TO LIVE.

As I See It



BY MEL VERCOE

Legalize marijuana? Why? Or why not? The bar association has now decided to recommend legalizing personal use of it, which means one of about three things: 1. Business may be so good they may not want to bother with penniless pot case defendants. 2. Some of the lawyers or most of them don't think the law is enforceable. 3. They may finally have recognized that the law is increasing crime, rather than reducing it.

In examining such issues we have to consider all angles, unless we happen to be so paranoid as to be unable to do so. For example, we may personally be opposed to the idea of legalized prostitution, but if we know it is going to go on whether legal or illegal, and if leagalizing it means we can exercise some control over the present epidemic spread of veneral disease, and maybe save some young girls from being raped and murdered by some depraved sex maniacs, then we have a different picture.

The laws against marijuana use are doing more than just taking up a lot of police time that could be applied to other work. We happen to be part of a degenerating society that among other things has become quite apathetic towards crime. Our law enforcement agencies need every possible bit of public cooperation, yet we insist on ordering them to enforce a law that costs our police the respect of a very sizeable portion of our young people, not just those who happen to use "pot", but those who can't see any sense at all to a law that discriminates and appears to them to be a carryover from the Dark Ages.

Comparing the use of Marijuana, tobacco and alcohol, it is doubtful that marijuana use will ever approach tobacco in causing heart disease, emphysema and cancer, and there is just no way that marijuana use could result in the massive and widespread volume of human misery and death caused by the use of alcohol, including 25,000 yearly traffic deaths directly resulting from somebody's use of alcohol, yet marijuana possession and use makes one a criminal, while tobacco smoking and swilling down alcohol are not only legal and socially desirable, we collect a lot of taxes on these deaths agents and we spend hundres of millions of dollars yearly on advertising so our youngsters will be sure to start out smoking or drinking the proper brands.

So, let's face it. We aren't really quite as interested in our young people's mental or physical health as we are in hanging onto some Medieval paranoid concepts.

Protection of our YOUNG/PEOPLE

During the next thirty days you will be besieged with campaign oratory, local election issues, and various proposition issues on the November 7 ballot. Rather than postpone announcing our Halloween SAFETY PROGRAM to the middle of the month, I am doing this earlier hoping it will receive more attention.

The purpose of developing and promoting this positive campaign is to preserve the enjoyment of the HALLOWEEN tradition for youngsters and to encourage the practice of common sense safety measures by those who participate.

BASIC HALLOWEEN SAFETY RULES

1. Young children should be accompanied by parents or other responsible adults on their "trick-or-treat" rounds.
2. "Trick-or-Treat" visits should be confined to the immediate neighborhood and limited to the residences of known neighbors.
3. "Trick-or-Treat" visits should be made during daylight hours, if possible.
4. Householders should be encouraged to give and children to accept only wrapped or sealed candy or other treats.
5. Children should bring all treates home for inspection before eating.
6. Residents who wish to welcome "trick-or-treaters" should light their porch or extarior lights as a sign of their hospitality.
7. Children should call only at homes with porch or other outside lights glowing.
8. Halloween masks should NOT be worn. (Masks restrict vision.) Colorful facial makeup may be used instead.
9. Halloween costumes should be light in color, short enough to prevent tripping, and nonflammable. For greater visibility in dusk or darkness, costumes may be decorated with reflective tape so that they "glow" in the beam of a car's headlights.
10. Follow the basic pedestrian safety rules developed by the National Safety Council:

-Cross only at corners, never between parked cars, never diagonally across an intersection.

-Look in all directions before crossing the street.

-Watch for and obey all traffic lights.

-Walk, never run across the street.

-Use sidewalks, not the street for walking.

-Wait on the curb, not in the street, until the street is clear to cross.

11. Motorists should be warned to exercise extreme caution on "Trick-Or-Treat" day and evening and to be on the alert for excited youngsters.
12. Children should carry flashlights if there is a possibility of being out after dark.
13. Pumpkins should be lighted only by means of a flashlight, never with a candle.

Chamber of Commerce Progress Report

by Verlaine Crawford, Executive Director

Where will you be at 12 noon on October 25? That's a Wednesday. If you're a member, or soon to be a member of the Chamber of Commerce, I hope you will join me for lunch at the Holiday Inn.

I would like to suprise everyone with a 100 percent turnout of members at this General Membership Luncheon on the 25th. The purpose of the luncheon is to get acquainted, but even more important...this is to be an opportunity for you to voice your opinion.

The meeting will be arranged so that groups of members will be sitting together. Each participant will be asked to write on a card what they think is the single most important thing or project that the Seaside Chamber of Commerce can do for Seaside.

A discussion at each table will follow to decide the best suggestion, which will then be presented to the general audience. In other words, you will be asked to help plan the future of Seaside. You don't have to be angry or upset to come. You don't even have to be brilliant. All we ask is that you voice an opinion.

You are important. Your opinion is important. It's time you were asked your opinion. We need your support to accomplish goals; but more importantly, we need your suggestions to set those goals.

What kind of image would you like to see in Seaside two years from today, five years, ten years, twenty years, fifty years into the future. Stretch your imagination. Allow your wildest dreams to take form in your mind. What do you see?

If you need an example, look back....it's easier. What has happened the past five years in Seaside. Amazing changes, new developments, new businesses, a new city hall.

Look back ten years, twenty years.....Seaside wasn't even a city. (We'll be just 18 years old on October 13). What about fifty years ago....sand dunes, tents, a few small houses scattered between Monterey and Fort Ord. Do you get the picture? Changes have taken place, but change is coming faster and faster. We must fact the future and plan ahead.

Now's the time to think of tomorrow, not wait until tomorrow hits you in the face, and you're too shocked to recover. Our city is presently working on a two year plan. They need such a plan to receive funding for projects. In my opinion, two years is very short-sighted planning even for an individual; but for a city, it's like saying "I'm going to plan for the day after tomorrow." Two year planning is a start, but I believe we need to know where we are going ten and twenty years into the future. We need to know what kind of community we want to build.

What kind of environment do we want? What kind of transportation? Housing? Entertainment? Recreation? Education? Business? The future holds technological developments which can make even the wildest dream come true. Look at the new Disney World in Florida. They have an underground vacuum cleaner system that keeps all the streets free of litter. Sounds logical doesn't it? Of course.

So, no dream is to outlandish. But to proceed without a plan, without even outlining what it is you want, is inviting chaos and destruction.

So, I ask you to come to lunch on October 25 at the Holiday Inn. I need to know if you are coming because I must guarantee a certain number of people. I am expecting you and your friends, but please call me at the Chamber: 394-6501.

Preacher Creature

by Judy Wittenberg

Even nature has its clergy. On Mount Laguna, the California acorn woodpecker has assumed the self-ordained role of minister. He presides in red-capped authority over some of the birds and smaller creatures in the Cleveland National Forest.

Just this morning a young squirrel with a notched right ear came to drink from the watering pan outside my cabin window. As Notchy was lapping quietly, down swooped Preach, issuing a blanket statement with regard to the sanctity of this particular watering place.

In response, Notchy raised his tail over his back and head protectively and continued drinking. Seeing that his warning had been ignored, Preach took a verticle hold on the trunk of a black oak a few feet away and began scolding the rodent for his disobedience in open-beaked anger. Notchy stopped drinking momentarily, considering carefully the tone of voice, if not the message, and went right on drinking.

Preach fluttered and fumed as the water level went down perceptibly. The young upstart's rank insubordination enraged him until he was fairly screeching his accusations.

Finally either from annoyance or because he had drunk his fill, Notchy left the sacred well to the preacher's keeping.

But Preach had just begun. He wasn't about to quit now, so he hopped down to a rock near the pan and continued his tirade from a proper pulpit. Minutes passed and still the sermon went on--to an empty audience. At last he noticed that no one was around to listen to his word. There was nothing to do but fly off in search of another congregation.

More minutes went by. Preach returned, apparently unable to find a listening ear. But all that preaching had dried his throat. So in solemn ritual he bowed his head and drank from the holy fount. In prayerful silence he stood for a moment as though seeking further inspiration. Then, glancing once more around the empty area, he left.

Soon a small black-capeed chickadee appeared for his daily drink. Back flew Preach. At the opening remarks of his sermon, Chick abandoned his pew, and again Preach was left to his empty pulpit. Deciding a little later that a little prayer was good for the soul, Chick later returned. But the preacher was gone. So he hopped quietly to the rim of the well and took his drink in heavenly peace.

Perhaps a little embarassed at being caught napping, Preach returned later to find yet another intruder on his sacred soil--a western blue jay. But immediately upon identifying his new parishioner, he flew to a distant tree where he only muttered his judgement from above. He knew it was useless. No one preaches to a jay bird.

Highway Taxes Are Distributed

State Controller Hugh Flournoy recently announced the distribution of $68,776,144 among the State, cities and counties as the September apportionment of highway users taxes.

Monterey County's share was $217,059.94, and Seaside's share was $21,853.11. A total of $17,137,356 went directly to the counties; $12,828,755 to cities; and $38,810,033 for expenditures on State Highways.

The total apportionment was derived from the following sources: gasoline tax, $61,876,924; diesel fuel tax, $3,520,971; transfer from the Transportation Tax Fund, $3,376,731; and miscellaneous, $1,518.

Gasoline tax available for the September apportionment was $3,863,317 greater than that for the prior month. The diesel fuel tax was $1,802,070 lower than the August figure. The transfer from the Transportation Tax Fund was $1,094,116 more than in August.

The distribution was $8,868,149 higher than that for September 1971. The gasoline tax was $5,925, 933 greater than last year, and the diesel fuel tax was $434,674 lower. However, the $3,376,731 transfer from the Transportation Tax Fund showed as all gain because the transfers from the Transportation Tax Fund went to the School Fund last year.

MOST WERE PRIVATE CARS

Almost 60,000 motor vehicles were involved in fatal highway crashes in 1971. Of these, more than 53,100 were private passenger cars.

Architect Is Subject of MPC Movie

A film entitled "The Artistry of Bruce Goff" will be shown free of charge at Monterey Peninsula College Thursday, 5. The film shows the art and architecture of the famous architect, a close frient of Frank Lloyd Wright. A native of Oklahoma, Goff produced many paintings which were rarely shown, but of highest quality.

Frenchman Takes Aim At Can-Am

Big time auto racing in America has been good to Francois Cevert. At 28, the blue-eyed native of Paris, France has been a professional for a very short time but in less than 11 months he has won the rich and prestigious United States Grand Prix and the Donnybrook, Minnesota Can-Am.

On the weekend of October 13-15 he'll be in contention at the Monterey Castrol GTX Grand Prix at Laguna Seca Raceway in Monterey.

He is in a very special class of drivers for not just anyone can win a Grand Prix or a Can-Am.

In Formula I Grand Prix events, Cevert is teammate to twice world champion Jackie Stewart, while in Can-Am he is in his first season as number one driver for Mrs. Irene Young of Connecticut driving the McLaren Chevrolet which carried Champagne Peter Revson to five victories and the over-all championship last year.

Cevert does not consider himself a Can-Am front runner with the likes of Revson, Denis Hulme, Mark Donohue and George Follmer because his car is one year old, "I don't believe I am a potential winner at every race but I am there."

And Cevert was there when it counted in Minnesota when george Follmer's L&M Porsche ran out of gas in the last of 70 laps and Cevert crossed the finish line first, smacked his French lips and gestured to the crowd that he was quite happy to take the $15,000 prize money.

Cevert's victory makes him fourth in the Can-Am standings and a prime contender for championship prize money at the end of the season.

Cevert's main racing experience until this season has been in the sophisticated world of European open-wheeled single-seaters but American's Can-Am two-seater sports cars are another thing altogether.

"Yes the cars are very different," he says, "the first reason is the greater power of the Can-Am car which is over 700 horsepower for my car. The car is much heavier than a Formula I car so you have to drive in a different way. The Formula I car responds very quickly to your demands and the Can-Am car allows you a delay in response."

Ready to race, Cevert's 450 horsepower Tyrrell Ford Formula I car weighs over 1760 pounds while his 700 horsepowered McLaren Chevrolet Can-Am car weighs 2100 pounds.

While Cevert's ability as a driver made him a prime candidate for Can-Am racing he lacked one thing, experience on the Can-Am tracks of America. What might have been a problem for some drivers was not for Cevert however, It's not difficult. I think it's part of the job of a racing driver to be ave to learn the tracks quickly. I remember when I started motor racing it took hours and hours and laps and laps to learn the racetrack and now I just need about 20 laps on each track and I am able to do my fastest laps."

For a driver used to the exotic fun spots of Europe, racing in America might seem dull but Cevert likes America and in factnow has a home in Los Angeles. "I enjoy coming over to America to race in those fast cars because everybody is nice and you don't have the pressure of the journalists and the public as you do in Formula I."

Cevert, along with Team McLaren drivers, Revson and Hulme, present a strong international segment of the Can-Am series while Roger Penske's L&M Porsche drivers, Mark Donohue and George Fullmer both former United States road racing champions, represent America's best drivers represent America's best driver offerings for the Monterey-Castrol GTX Grand Prix at Laguna Seca October 13-15.

With three races still to run the Can-Am championship is wide open. So far George Fullmer, who has won three races leads with 78 points, followed by Californian Melt Minter (Porsche) with 55 points, former champion Denis Hulme who has won two races with 50, and Cevert with 47.

The Monterey-Castrol GTX Grand Prix at Laguna Seca highlights an exciting weekend of racing which includes the 2.5 Trans-Am

Soul Food

By Rev. Richard J. Hooper
Mission: Possible

GIVE PEACE A CHANCE

Since the POST is a paper mainly for Seaside, it is safe to assume many readers are military personnel or families, since Seaside is largely a bedroom for Fort Ord.

Some of these military people are at the Fort not by choice, but through circumstance, and do not care for this way of life. Others are "lifers" and really dig military life and philosophy. Those in the latter category will probably not like or agree with today's column, for I wish to define the Christian response to war and the military in general.

If a man argues from personal conviction that he believes war is necessary (for whatever reason) that is surely his perogative, and I'll leave him with his beliefs. But for those who believe the old motto "for God and Country" and believe they can be both warriors and Christians, problems of contradiction arise, for such an argument hold no theological water, and can not be considered valid.

Beyond any doubt Jesus was a pacifist, and I would challenge anyone to prove otherwise through the use of scripture. His comments are always consistant on the subject; "All they that take the sword (gun) shall die by the sword (gun)" (Matt. 26: 52.) He states the simple rule of the Universe that violence breeds violence, and can create no other end than death. Right before this comment Jesus says "Put up again your sword in its place." This whole comment is about the "defensive" sword. The sword, even when used in defense, will recoil upon him who uses it. Defense or offense, killing is killing, and not only can not be justified, but will eventually cause the murder to fall because of what he has done. "That which a man sows, so shall he reap".

Jesus knew that life was ultimately valuable, and that REAL LIFE is led in spirituality, in union with God who is the essence of love and peace. "If my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight." (John 18: 36) Which is to say that inner life, the Kingdom, is not one which can be defended by force of arms. Neither can it be taken away from him by force of arms. You can kill a man's body, but you can not kill his eternal soul, which is always and forever one with the Lord of Love.

Every Christian who wages war does so against God's commandments of love, mercy, peace and justice. There is no escape from that fact!

Few people realize that the early Christians refused to fight for the Roman Empire. No Christian joined the state army until several centuries after Christ when the Roman Emperor Constantine made Christianity the state religion. Only then did people come up with the idea that a Christian should defend the state. The state became ultimately more important than the Church in people's hearts, and such an idea has been carried down to the present day, through the crusades of of the middle ages to the present day fighting of Protestants and Catholics in Ireland.

I have heard all the traditional arguments for war, which make war justified when fighting the enemy who is in the wrong. "We must defend our homeland and our families". "We must preserve democracy", etc. etc. "We must fight to win lasting peace"!

But is war pragmatic? Does it work? Does it bring peace? Man has been waging war since he first built communities, and he has yet failed to establish peace through means of war. How could he? Violence always breeds violence. Peace always breeds peace. This is an unfailing law of the Universe.

Are we then to become pawns for some enemy to conquer? No! There are ways of resisting evil and injustice without violence, and these ways are pragmatic. I need only mention Mahatma Gandhi and his non-violent resistance against the British. His resistance worked! Non-violence conquered violence. This is the one and only way to achieve peace, through using only peaceful means. He who uses violence becomes violent and thus little different from the "enemy". War and killing have been proven ineffective. Why not now try something that works?

A man must choose. He must decide if the law of God or the law of man is ultimately important for his life.

Give peace a chance.

Northridge Center Opens October 25

Northridge Center located at Boronda Road and U.S. Highway 101 in Salinas, California, will hold opening ceremonies on Wednesday, October 25. The site of this largest retail development between San Jose and Santa Barbara, was for many years a productive ranch in the Salinas Valley. The site, formerly known as the Home Ranch, was owned and operated by members of the Christensen family for more than 50 years. In 1924, a water well as dug on the land and provided irrigation for the first strawberries ever grown in the Salinas Valley.

The 80 acres were acquired by Sutter-Hill Limited of Palo Alto, California in 1969. Portions of the property were conveyed to the two major tenants of the Center, the J.C. Penney Company and the Emporium-Capwell Company (a division of Broadway Hale Stores, Inc.) in 1970. That same year, Sutter-Hill formed a joint venture, NORTHRIDGE CENTER, with the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Phase I of the development scheduled for opening Wednesday, October 25, contains 55 acres. In addition to the two department stores, the full enclosed mall will be occupied by approximately 50 specialty shops. Also, on the site will be a convenience center with a Safeway Supermarket and Pay-Less Drug Store, a savings and loan association branch (Golden West Savings & Loan), and a band to be selected in the near future.

Phase II of the development, containing 11.5 acres, is plainned for the future addition of a third major department store to the Center. Phase III, containing 10 acres, is to be utilized for additional commercial development.
